

Sonocent Audio Notetaker is a comprehensive study tool which enables students to get more from their classes and lectures. The software was designed to make note taking and studying as simple as possible for anyone. It does this by making speech from audio recordings as easy to use as text. We believe that for the majority of students, Audio Notetaker can help students create the best notes ever.

A new way of taking notes

When reading, many people use a highlighter to make a note of the key parts. It's a great way of studying because you can come back and take the time to think and engage with the material, which is key to learning.

Often people take notes in class, not as part of a study process, but to simply capture the information. This is because you only get to hear it once. Furthermore, most students struggle to write down everything that's important. This approach to note taking is not very effective and impossible for some students. Audio Notetaker solves this problem.

Audio Notetaker visualizes each phrase as a bar.

Record your class with our free app or on your computer and use color highlighting to mark the bits you think are important, just like you would with a book. It's easy to come back to those moments later.

You can add presentation slides, images and PDF documents and also type text alongside your audio. Take the time to engage with the information and take great notes.

Who uses it?

Sonocent Audio Notetaker can help any student take better notes. But we believe it especially makes a difference for those students who have...

- difficulties taking hand-written notes
- poor working memory or concentration issues
- difficulties hearing the speaker
- poor organization and time management
- different learning styles
- and those who take distance learning courses

Why use it?

Never miss a thing

Your whole lecture is recorded and easily accessible.

Increased productivity

Slides, text, links, audio and color annotations are all in one place and easy to find with Audio Notetaker's search tools. For some students, Audio Notetaker allows them to take better notes faster.

Focus on lecture information, not scrambling to multi-task

It's too easy to be distracted by trying to capture notes. Audio Notetaker allows you to focus on listening and understanding.

Active learning

Empowers a student to "think" about the lecture and create meaning via annotation. A student can individualize lecture notes/recordings, thus creating multiple connections to in-class material.

Portability

Record and annotate with your iPhone or iPad using our free iOS app, create your notes on your laptop then export to iTunes to review on the move.

Independence

Some students rely on note takers or classmates for their notes. Audio Notetaker gives students the ability to be in control of their own learning.
